Tip 5: Here are three tips to help you successfully answer the questions in the "Residency Information" section:

1. You are a dependent if a parent/guardian or multiple parents/guardians provide financial support for you (examples: you live in or sometimes stay at their house where they pay the bills, they pay for your food, clothes, etc).
2. If you are a dependent then the majority of support for you is provided by a parent/guardian or multiple parents/guardians (examples: you live in or sometimes stay at their house where they pay the bills, they pay for your food, clothes, etc).
3. The Texas Independent School District (ISD) where you reside is the ISD where your house or apartment is located. This may be different from the ISD where you go to school. If you or your parents own a house, select the ISD to which property taxes are paid. If you or your parents rent a house or apartment, the landlord or apartment complex management can help you determine which ISD you reside in.
