What's Next? The Future of Digital Entertainment.

Authors: Eden, Allison; edenal@msu.edu; Ahn, Sun Joo (Grace)

Source: Communication Research Reports. 2018, Vol. 35 Issue 5, p379-380. 2p.

Document Type: Article

Subject Terms: *Digital media; Digital technology

NAAC Industry Codes: 519130 Internet Publishing and Broadcasting and Web Search Portals

Abstract: The article introduces various topics covered in the issue including the boundary between producers and consumers of entertainment, entertainment-on-demand consumption of digital content, and psychological processes and effects of virtual world.

Author Affiliations: ¹Allison Eden (PhD, Michigan State University, 2011) is an assistant professor in the Department of Communication at Michigan State University, specializing in media entertainment research. Her work is interdisciplinary, drawing from communication and media psychology, social psychology and neuroscience in the areas of media psychology, media entertainment, and media processing. She has been published in Journal of Communication, Media Psychology, Journal of Media Psychology, Journal of CyberPsychology, Behavior, and Social Networking among others, including popular press outlets. Allison is a founding organizer and current secretary of the Communication Science and Biology interest group at CA, an affiliated scholar with the Media Neuroscience Lab at the University of California, Santa Barbara, as well as the CARSMA Lab at Michigan State University. ²Sun Joo (Grace) Ahn (PhD, Stanford University, 2011) is an associate professor at the Grady College of Journalism and Mass Communication, University of Georgia, and the founding director of the Games and Virtual Environments Lab. Her main program of research investigates how interactive digital media such as virtual and augmented reality transform traditional rules of communication and social interactions, looking at how virtual experiences shape the way that people think, feel, and behave in the physical world. Her work is supported by the National Science Foundation and National Institutes of Health and is published in numerous top-tier outlets, including Journal of Computer-Mediated Communication, Communication Research, Media Psychology, and Journal of Advertising. She is the recipient of the Mary Alice Shaver Promising Professor Award from the American Academy of Advertising and the Inaugural Early Career Award from the National Communication Association's Health Communication Division.
