

Uproar

Submission Guidelines

Uproar, the student literary arts magazine of Lone Star College-University Park, is published every spring. Any LSC-University Park student may submit pieces or join the staff.

1. The submission deadline for the 2016 edition of Uproar is Saturday, Nov. 7, 2015. Late submissions will be saved for the following school year's selection process.
2. Only LSC-University Park students who are enrolled in a credit course may submit. Magazine staff members also may submit.
3. The selection process is anonymous. Authors should not put their names anywhere on written pieces; names should only appear on the submission forms. Artists must put their names on the back of their pieces.
4. Only original, unpublished works are accepted. Simultaneous submissions are permitted as long as you notify us if your piece is accepted somewhere else.
5. All entries must be listed on an Uproar Submission Form. Students should use separate forms for writing and for art. Maximum entries per person: six poems, three short stories/essays and eight art pieces.
6. Short stories/essays should not exceed 3,500 words in length. Word count must be included on the first page.
7. Entries and submission forms may be turned in to the advisor offices in B13.811, B13.823, or the Uproar submission box, located in the Writing Lab in the LSC-University Park library on the 8th floor. Digital entries and submission forms may be emailed to Uproar@LoneStar.edu.

Contest Information: Every piece submitted will be entered into the Uproar Contest. Entries will be judged by faculty members, who will select an art piece for the cover and first, second and third place winners in poetry and in prose. First- through third-place winners will receive gift card awards worth $100, $75 and $50, respectively. The artist who creates the artwork selected for the cover will receive a $100 gift card.

The Uproar advisors are David Miller, who can be reached at David.W.Miller@LoneStar.edu or in B13.823, and Greg Oaks, who can be reached at Greg.E.Oaks@LoneStar.edu or in B13.811.
